Meeting ID: 826 4070 2759

In 1962, at the age of 27, Brian Epstein was the restless manager of the record department of his father's store in Liverpool,

By 1967, at the age of 32, the architect of the biggest phenomenon in popular music throughout the world was dead.

Roger's audio-visual presentation leads us through his development from the private man to the impresario and tycoon, surrounded by a wave of memorable Beatles music which framed our lives for five magical years.

NEXT MEETING : 3.30pm Tuesday 10th January - with Guest speaker Marta Josephs 'My Father - his experiences in the Holocaust'
